

You must meet these conditions before applying to drive a taxi

You must have turned 21 years old and have held a B-class driving license for at least two years, or have a D-class driving license.

You must have passed a background screening test. This includes checking if you have a criminal record. The screening is done when you submit your application.

You must undergo a medical examination to show that you pass the medical requirements to ensure the safety of your passengers and other road users.

You can apply for a preliminary statement from the Swedish Transport Agency if you are unsure if you will pass the screening or the medical tests.

You must pass a theory test and a driving test. The theory test consists of three parts: map reading, safety, and legislation.

The driving test is designed to test your knowledge and skills regarding the vehicle's construction, passenger safety, driving in traffic, making your way to specific locations, and judgement.

The theory test and driving tests can be taken at one of the Swedish Transport Administration's testing offices. The theory tests are done in Swedish.

When you have met all the requirements and have passed the tests, you can apply for a taxi driver's license.
